

ART 7.4.2 Provide Support to Civil Law Enforcement

Support to domestic civil law enforcement involves activities related to the Department of Justice's counterterrorism activities, counterdrug activities, military assistance during civil disturbances, and general support. Army support involves providing resources, training, or augmentation. Federal military forces remain under the military chain of command while supporting civil law enforcement. The supported law enforcement agency coordinates Army forces activities per appropriate civil laws and interagency agreements. Army National Guard units in state status can be a particularly useful military resource. They may be able to provide assistance to civil authorities when federal units cannot due to the Posse Comitatus Act. Title 10 USC prohibits the military from directly participating in arrests, searches, seizures, or other similar activities unless authorized by law.
