Environment: a. Environmental protection involves developers and instructors/facilitators working aggressively to avoid or minimize damage to the environment caused by realistic learning courses/events.

Ensure all staff, instructors/facilitators, and students practice environmental protection. Include appropriate environmental protection statements, cautions, notes, and warnings on all Army learning products.

Safety: In a training environment, leaders must perform a risk assessment in accordance with FM 5-19, Composite Risk Management. Leaders will complete a DA Form 7566 COMPOSITE RISK MANAGEMENT WORKSHEET during the planning and completion of each task and sub-task by assessing mission, enemy, terrain and weather, troops and support available-time available and civil considerations, (METT-TC). Note: During MOPP training, leaders must ensure personnel are monitored for potential heat injury. Local policies and procedures must be followed during times of increased heat category in order to avoid heat related injury. Consider the MOPP work/rest cycles and water replacement guidelines IAW FM 3-11.4, NBC Protection, FM 3-11.5, CBRN Decontamination. a. CRM is the decision-making process for identifying and assessing hazards, and developing and implementing risk mitigation actions to control risk across the full spectrum of Army missions, functions, operations, and activities (see FM 5-19). Institutions must manage risks without degrading essential learning requirements. Rigorous, realistic learning exercises, implemented under stressful conditions are critical to preparing our Soldiers to fight and win in FSO. b. CRM is a vital component of the ADDIE process. CRM balances benefits against potential losses and provides the tools to accomplish realistic exercises while preserving the scarce resources of personnel, time, and equipment. The purpose is not to restrict, but to enhance realism and increase flexibility. c. The branch safety director is responsible to ensure personnel associated with the ADDIE process are taught CRM on an annual basis.
