In cases where the President declares a "major disaster or emergency," a number of possible mechanisms are activated to support homeland security PR operations resulting from a major disaster or emergency. The Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) of the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) becomes the lead response agency in such cases as provided in the National Response Plan (NRP). The Department of Defense is signatory to the National Response Plan. The circumstances that exist before and after a disaster declaration may involve civil SAR operations carried out under the National Search and Rescue Plan, and may even involve mass rescue operations as discussed below.(FM 3-50.1) (USACAC)
