

ART 7.3.4 Support Governance

Stability operations establish conditions that enable interagency and host nation actions to succeed. By establishing security and control, stability operations provide a foundation for transitioning authority to other government or intergovernmental agencies and eventually to the host nation. Once this transition is complete, commanders focus on transferring control to a legitimate civil authority according to the desired end state.

NO.	Scale	Measure
-----	-------	---------

Supporting Collective Tasks:

Task No.	Title	Proponent	Echelon
----------	-------	-----------	---------