

ART 7.1.2.1.3 Conduct an Antiarmor Ambush

An antiarmor ambush is a surprise attack by fire or other destructive means from concealed positions on moving or temporarily halted enemy armored vehicles. The ambush ends with the displacement of the antiarmor system to preclude its destruction by enemy counterambush actions. (FM 3-21.91) (USAIS)

NO.	Scale	Measure
-----	-------	---------

Supporting Collective Tasks:

Task No.	Title	Proponent	Echelon
----------	-------	-----------	---------